NAZI MOSCOW DRIVE HALTED

Center Of Battle Line In Stalemate; Germans Claim Sea Gains

(By Associated Press) MOSCOW, Aug. 30.—The Red army reported today it had brought the German offensive toward Moscow to a standstill and had swept back some German forces in battles which cost the Nazis 10,000 dead and wounded.

Frontline dispatches said that the battle had become a series of trench, anti-tank warfare, minefields and barbed wire over which the fighting continued along the entire front but Soviet reports indicated that the center was stalemated and the Germans were attempting to press in on both flanks.

Claim Sea Triumphs

BERLIN, Aug. 30.—At least 43 and possibly as many as 82 Russian transports have been sunk in the Gulf of Finland by German mines and warplanes in the Russian evacuation of captured Tallinn, the German high command declared today.

The Russian Baltic fleet also lost a cruiser, four destroyers, nine minesweepers and three patrol boats, sunk by mines and air bombs, the war bulletin from Adolf Hitler's headquarters declared.

The truck will undergo thorough tests after its arrival here and all members of the fire department will be schooled in operating the machine, which has a left-hand drive.

SENATE FACES TAX BILL VOTE

Biggest Revenue Measure In History Voted By Committee

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—Leaders sought to line up senate votes today for prompt approval next week of the finance committee's $3,672,400,000 revenue bill—biggest in history.

The bill, estimated by the treasury to yield $456,000,000 more than a similar measure approved by the house, would hit both individuals and corporations and increase existing taxes all along the line.

Its Ordinary Buyer In raising $84,500,000 additional from so-called "nuisance taxes" it would impose new levies on the man who buys an automobile or a saxophone, an electric light bulb or a washing machine.

It would lower existing income tax exemptions from $2,000 to $1,500 for married persons and from $800 to $750 for single individuals, thus bringing more than 6,000,000 additional persons under the federal income tax structure.

"This bill is unfortunate to a headache to us and it will be a headache to the taxpayers," Senator George (D-Ga.), chairman of the finance committee, expressed the opinion that "the treasury estimate of $3,672,400,000 is too low; the legislation will yield about $4,000,000,000 a year."

The measure will be brought to the senate floor Wednesday, and Democratic Leader Barkley is hopeful of winning passage by next Saturday.

Before the measure goes to the President, however, the differences between the senate and house bills will have to be adjusted in conference.

Other Provisions Listed Here are other key provisions of the bill: Increases all individual income taxes from 4 to 10 per cent in the bottom brackets and provides varying percentages of increase all along the line.

Imposes or increases so-called "nuisance" taxes on a score of articles ranging from furs and musical instruments.

Berlin Says Meeting Seals Axis Plan For Peace In Europe

(By Associated Press) A crying need for oil for the Axis war chariots and means of bulwarking the European continent against the possibility of British or American invasion were among the most urgent problems discussed at the Hitler-Mussolini meeting on the eastern front, dispatches from Rome acknowledged today.

The German press was busy extolling the conference of the two dictators as sealing an Axis plan for permanent European peace—based on a decisive German-Italian victory. Japanese dispatches said the conference also dealt with American-Japanese relations.

Consider Raw Materials In Rome the five-day sessions which ended yesterday were understood by political circles to have dealt with raw materials and the means to supply them to continue the war in its third year.

Coming through the Italian censors along with this unusual acknowledgment was word from well-informed political sources that Premier Mussolini had agreed to supply as many Italian soldiers for the front and workers for Germany as Hitler might require.

The same sources said it was assumed that the fuhrer and Il Duce discussed means of bringing all Europe, including nervously neutral Portugal and Turkey, into a solid "new order," front against the possibility of British or American invasion.

Both in Rome and Berlin, the Axis meeting was pictured as an answer to the talks of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill at sea earlier this month.

News of direct action in the war was comparatively scarce, but Leningrad's peril grew ominously closer. The Finns reported a thrust to Kivnappa, 30 miles north of the old czarist capital, along with capture of the ruined city of Viipuri, 75 miles north.

Report Estonian Cleanup The Germans reported a steady cleanup of the Estonian pocket of Russian resistance to the west was costing the Red army and navy many men and ships and increasing the menace to Leningrad by sea and air.

The Germans reported that in founding the Russians fleeing from Tallinn and Paldiski, Estonia, the Luftwaffe had sunk 43 and possibly 82 ships and a cruiser and four destroyers in the Gulf of Finland in 24 hours.

British bombers swept across the channel again today to attack the French coast after raiding southern Germany last night. German raids on England were reported relatively light.

Execution of eight more persons, including a French count and a Netherlands, was reported from Paris, bringing to 11 the number executed since Pierre Laval and his journalistic associate in collaboration with Germany, Marcel Deat, were wounded gravely by a young Frenchman four days ago.

The Japanese press, moderating its tone toward the United States, looked to President Roosevelt's answer a message by Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye by indicating the United States' desire to maintain peace in the Pacific and to bring about a quick settlement of issues there.

The British embassy at Tokyo announced it had arranged for a ship to come to Japan for evacuation of British nationals who had been having difficulty leaving the country.

JAPAN AWAITS FDR'S ANSWER

Looking To Roosevelt For Indication Of U. S. Pacific Policy

TOKYO, Aug. 30.—The Japanese press looked today to President Roosevelt to answer a message from Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye by indicating the definite desire of the United States to maintain peace in the Pacific and bring about a quick settlement of the issues there.

Newspapers said they regarded the chances of Japan coming to an agreement with the United States as better than the prospects for an understanding between Japan and Great Britain.

There was no official elaboration, however, of the brief statement yesterday that Japan's ambassador in Washington, Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, had handed to Mr. Roosevelt the premier's message outlining the "imperial government's attitude toward the Pacific situation."

One reliable source declared any speculation that an understanding already had been reached between Japan and the United States was "premature."

In none of the Japanese newspaper accounts of the Konoye message was there any mention of the Axis, of which Japan is a member, or any indication of Germany's view of the situation.

Study Strict Export Control

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—A further tightening of restrictions on petroleum shipments to Japan is under study by export control authorities, it was learned in informal quarters today, despite Japanese overtures designed to achieve a peaceful solution of the critical situation in the Far East.

Oil has been responsible in part for the strained relations between the United States and Japan. The tense situation culminated in Japanese representations to Russia at a time when shipments of oil and gasoline to Japan have been embargoed and all other petroleum products placed under a strict licensing system.

Pending outcome of talks to be held by President Roosevelt, Secretary Hull, and Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, the Japanese ambassador, however, officials indicated that no final decisions would be made on the export control administrative measures under consideration.

The Roosevelt-Hull-Nomura conference will be held today.

URGE JOBS INSTEAD OF JAIL SENTENCES

LISBON, Aug. 30.—A possible solution for the curbing of expenses of boarding county prisoners in the Mahoning county jail at Youngstown was advanced at a meeting of the mayors of cities and villages who were called into conference by the county commissioners Friday afternoon.

The proposal advanced by city officials, which has proved satisfactory in the past in several of the corporation, is to let the prisoner work out a fine for intoxication instead of serve a jail sentence. The plan has proved very effective in cutting the number of such violations, the officials stated, and the matter was concurred in by the commissioners.

Municipal Judge F. E. Grosshans on Friday freed 18 East Livelihood prisoners serving sentences in the county jail for intoxication, in co-operating with the economy move.

Annual County Fair Will Open Sept. 9; Plan Kiddies' Day

LISBON, Aug. 30.—The 96th annual Columbiana county fair, banister event of the year for urban and rural folks alike will open here on Tuesday, Sept. 9, for a four-day showing.

Plans for one of the biggest fairs are being made, with programs, exhibits and displays of unusual character calculated to attract the interest of people from every walk of life. Primarily planned for the competitive exhibition of farm products and livestock, the fair in recent years has taken on new aspects in commercial and industrial exhibits with a universal interest to all people.

Headlining the entertainment program will be the Klein Special Attractions which will give complete performances Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights as well as featured acts between race events in the afternoons. Horse pulling contests, harness racing, basketball, and fireworks displays, school grange and 4-H display, school grange and livestock, plays, farm produce and livestock, and culinary art exhibits will share in the interest of the throngs.

The children's day fair, which will be held on Friday, the closing day, will feature pony, bicycle and running races for both boys and girls with attractive prizes for the winners in each. All school children of the county will be admitted free Friday and invitations have been extended to all high school bands in the county to be present and contribute to the musical program of the day.

The Lisbon High school band has been secured to play on the grounds and between races on Wednesday, while the East Palestine High school band will do the honors on Thursday.

Ewalt, who said two months ago a shortage had been discovered, but that it was repaid.

FRIENDS HEAR CAMP REPORTS

Work of Civilian Public Service Unit Cited at Damascus

One of the most interesting of the reports given at the Ohio Friends Yearly meeting is one by Fred E. Smith, a representative of the Civilian Public Service of the Society of Friends. The CPS is a division of the famed American Friends Service committee, active in relief work everywhere.

The Civilian public service operates 15 CCC-type camps throughout the US where conscientious religious objectors to war do reforestation, erosion control, and from anything before ever tied, the camps are supported by the Quakers, and two other groups, the Mennonites and the Brethren, and do not cost the government a cent.

The camps were originated at the suggestion of the Quakers who sought a more liberal treatment than the conventional "Priso or fight" edict handed out in war time. The camps are highly successful.

Officers for next year were elected at today's session. In addition there were to be meetings of the ministry and oversight and various other administrative bodies.

Tomorrow's services open with a praise service at 9:30, gospel service at 10:30, and special service in the interest of the Friends' service home at 1:30. At 2:30 there will be a special gospel service in both the church and the army meeting house, followed by seices on the lawn.

The concluding gospel service for the yearly meeting will be at 7:30.

PLAN FURTHER CONFERENCES WITH COUNCIL

Decide Community Welfare More Important Than Individuals'

REALIZE DANGER CREATED BY TIEUP

Action Toward Arriving at Adjustment Expected In Near Future

Reaching the conclusion that the welfare of the entire community is far more important than their own individual desires, 22 employees of the service and waterworks department today ended the strike that began at midnight Wednesday.

The 22 men returned to work this morning and will continue in their jobs pending further conferences with city council in an effort to arrive at an amicable and satisfactory adjustment of the problem.

The men are members of local union 318, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees. The union called the strike, effective last Wednesday at midnight, after a meeting with city council as a whole. This meeting, which had been preceded by numerous committee sessions, failed to develop a solution to the men's requests for a 12-cent-an-hour wage increase.

The suspension of service immediately developed community hazards which could seriously affect the hospitals, industrial plants, fire protection and private homes.

Realizing that the dangers were too great in comparison with the strike objective, Russell Thomas, president of the local union, pointed out today that the men unanimously had agreed to return to work in the interest of community welfare and seek by conference to iron out their wage difficulties.

Weekend Traffic Is Piling Up In City

Traffic jams were numerous in Salem today as early holiday traffic poured through the city. Only a few accidents were reported, however, in the slowly moving lanes of cars.

Chief of Police Ralph Stoffer erected a detour sign which sent Route 45 traffic over E. Pershing st. to relieve the E. State st. situation to a certain extent.

The chief appealed to Salem motorists to keep their automobiles off downtown E. State st. as much as possible during the holiday weekend. "This will help things considerably," he said.

State highway patrolmen, who expect to do a lot of patrolling today, tomorrow and Monday, investigated two accidents Friday night.

No one was injured when automobiles driven by Michael Paff, 55, of Alliance, and Alexander Abblett, 48, of Leetonia, collided on Route 62 at Damascus at 9:30.

A collision on Route 14 at Unity at 5:45 p. m. involved cars operated by Selby Hull, 64, of Columbiana, and George M. McGinnis, 22, of Darlington. Neither driver was hurt.

LABOR HOLDS THE ANSWER

In 1941, on the day set aside to honor its place, labor has achieved more recognition of its importance than it ever could claim before.

The struggle to find the solution for the problems of mankind and to discover how to build a better civilization on the aspirations of those who have faith in humanity is being determined by those who toil. They know it, and society at large knows it—and readily acknowledges the fact.

The outcome does not rest with politicians, manipulators or militarists, but with producers. Exploiters, agitators and orators are little more than parasites feeding on the efforts of workers. The revolution of the proletariat has occurred, but in a form different from that sought by revolutionists.

Gone forever is the concept that labor is a class set apart and in conflict with other elements in the civilization built on its strength. Labor today is an inclusive, not an exclusive, term. The fact has not been accepted yet by some exploiters, but circumstances have established it firmly.

Chief among the circumstances at the moment, or at least most in evidence, is the war. The ultimate issue at stake in the matching of strength between nations is whether the men and women who must live by toil shall be the masters of their own destiny, or whether they shall be the pawns of masters endlessly intrigued by dreams of personal power.

Labor holds the answer. Its efforts and the integrity of its leadership will decide the outcome of the contest. The visions of a better order are all visions of a society in which the dignity of labor shall have increased so greatly that there will be room in it for all persons with something to contribute to civilization.

Having won the battle of production against involuntary labor's masters, free labor will take its rightful place of leadership in the determination of human affairs. It is happening already. There has been no Labor day in the United States on which the celebrants of labor's importance had more to celebrate—not the celebrants of the importance of any particular kind or organization of labor, but the celebrants of the importance of all human beings who earn their daily bread.

A SHRED OF CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE

Understanding of United States policy concerning Japan continues to be a trade secret of the state and navy departments. But insofar as the public is permitted to gaze upon circumstantial evidence that the policy is flirting with fireworks, one shred of that evidence commands a second look.

Japan is objecting strenuously to shipment of supplies from this country to Russia via Vladivostok. It is doing so despite the fact it has a neutrality pact with Russia and despite the fact it is not bound to take any action under its agreement with Germany and Italy because neither of them has been attacked.

There is, in short, no evident reason why shipment of United States supplies to Russia should be of direct concern to Japan; no evident reason why it should regard the making of such shipments as an unfriendly act on the part of the United States. Yet the fact is Japan regards the shipments in that light. This is the shred of circumstantial evidence.

With the misgivings called for when drawing conclusions from circumstantial evidence, it may be conjectured that Japan has some more direct reason than its published diplomatic commitment for objecting to United States aid for Russia. The situation suggests that Japan may be apprehensive of the effect of Russo-American cooperation on its own ultimate security in Asia, perhaps with better reason than Americans are able to guess at on the basis of their own insufficient knowledge of the government's policy toward Japan.

That policy is and continues to be an unknown factor in the national effort to make head and tail of a war which, starting on the eastern shore of the Atlantic, has moved eastward until it is as close to this continent as Bering straits and the western shore of the Pacific.

OFF WITH THEIR HEADS

Shooting politicians in France, like shooting grouse in Scotland, is a familiar custom. Most important thing about the Laval shooting incident sets to be the proof it furnishes that Nazi occupation of France hasn't changed such things.

Laval is a moral traitor. He also may be a legal traitor, a point that some observers of antics before France's defeat insist on making. But his legal status, like that of Petain, is indeterminate. There is no way to determine the legal status of a man suspected of treachery in a country whose laws are what the traitor's friends decide they shall be.

But as a moral traitor, Laval has incited the hatred of thousands of Frenchmen who see his type for the collapse of their country. There may be hundreds of thousands of Frenchmen like Laval. There may be millions and tens of millions—all destined to average the betrayal of their country by men and women who helped make France a vassal state of Nazi Germany.

Their unrest has resulted in widespread disorder in France already; the Laval incident is a phase of the trouble being encountered by the French invaders. To deal with its difficulties, Geay has evolved a policy. It is going to use terror. Terror is now in progress. Heads will fall. The head will be herded into prisons. Hall to Hitler's newer, the oldest order there is—despotism. Whatever expense there may have been about the nature of the new order is being dissipated in a hurry.

ANYTHING CAN HAPPEN

Not everything growing out of the war is grim. Replying to a suggestion that a fabric shop could be helped by trimming a few more inches skirts, some leaders in the dress industry have explained that it probably won't happen. If it should happen, warns one, look out for traffic congestion.

Skirts, as the experts look at them, however, are as short as they can be for grace and decency. This does not mean they can't be shorter, of course. They were shorter right after World War I, for instance. Whether they were graceful and decent is not for an ordinary spectator to say.

About all an ordinary spectator can say is that he doesn't see how he can lose. If skirts get shorter, he can look at the traffic congestion. If they stay where they are, he can look at what he's looking at now.

THE STARS SAY:

For Sunday, August 31

SUNDAY'S horoscope is a rather contradictory one. There are auguries for promotion, favors and endorsement from superiors and those in influential position, with prospects of worthwhile good fortune and expanded horizons, yet proclivities to make blunders, or foolish mistakes, may incite loss and defeat.

Those whose birthday it is may be given the opportunity to rise to good heights of success, advancement, good fortune and prosperity. Superiors and those in power may contribute to this.

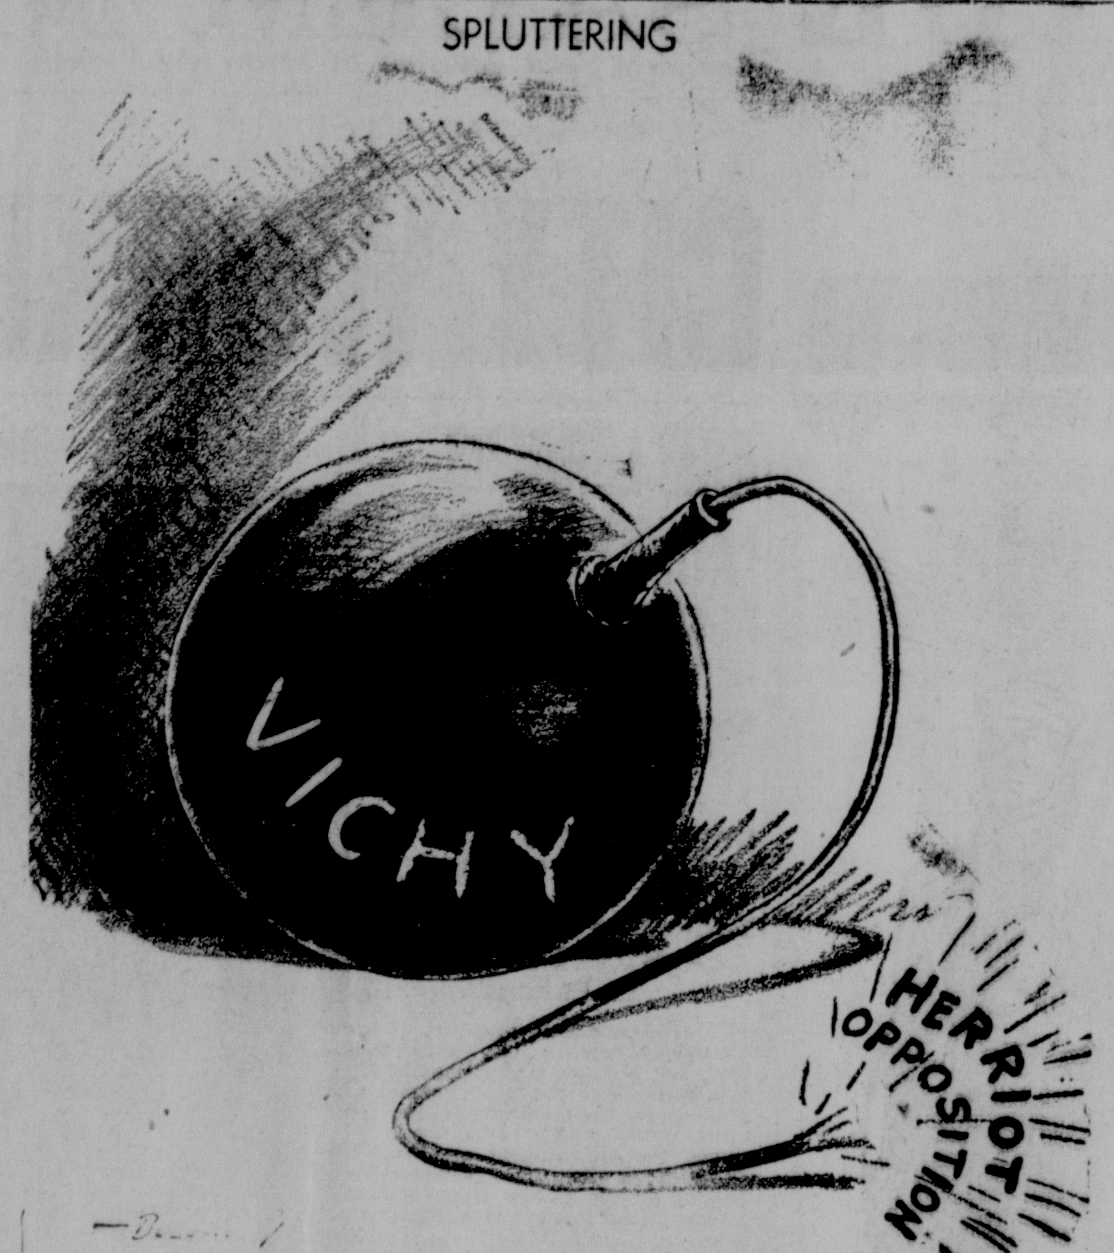

A child born on this day should be resourceful, have keen energies and mentality, winning support of those in high places.

For Monday, September 1

Monday's astrological forecast is for a particularly active and eventful day with much stirring in business as well as in the personal life. There should be much encouragement for writings, publicity, travel, communications, and all youthful interests, but some precaution and vigilance are demanded in order to avoid dangers and pitfalls. In social, domestic and romance there may be much pleasure in spite of petty vexations or anxieties.

Those whose birthday it is may enjoy a successful and progressive year, especially if occupied by writings, publication, travel, or in the more practical arts. But there may be dangers of deceptions, jealousies, and erratic situations, to be manipulated with caution, alertness and sound judgment, thrift and good nature.

A child born on this day should be exceptionally talented, versatile, with energy, keen wit and good nature. It should also be artistic, with love of beauty and refinements of living.

GUARD HEALTH OF GROWING CHILD

School Age Child Should Be Watched, Says Doctor

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Each year at this time we have considered it as a part of our function, and indeed the most valuable function which we perform, to recommend certain things in the preparation of the new crop of youngsters who are entering school for the first time. This may perhaps be the most prevalent disease. It was in World War I. In the Medical Corps when we saw a new draft coming in, if they came from the city we did not worry. The boys in the city had lived in close contact with other boys and had developed an immunity, one way or another, to the contagious diseases.

The farm boys, although they looked far more healthy and strong than the city boys, began to come down as soon as they reached camp with the measles and mumps and scarlet fever and chicken pox. They had lived on the farm with-out a great variety of human contacts, which means they had lived without a great variety of germ contacts and had developed few natural immunities.

Sure to Meet Germs

When a child goes out from the home circle into close contact with other children, who come from all parts of the city and from many different homes, he is bound to meet some new germs.

The most dangerous of these is diphtheria, and since it is possible to immunize the child against diphtheria before he goes to school, this is one of the prerequisites of school preparation.

Besides immunization the most important thing in preparing a child for school is to be sure of eyesight and hearing. Not many demands are made on these senses in the home circle, and of course, in school very particular demands are immediately made on them. That is why school boards make a particular effort to assess the acuteness of vision and hearing in the students.

A child may have gone clear through the first few years of life with its immediate relatives with half or a quarter of the normal amount of hearing or vision. Many backward children are brought up to normal by an adjustment of these matters.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

D. F.: "Is coffee good for the heart or not?"

Answer: Coffee increases the blood flow through various organs. Thus, it keeps you awake because it increases the blood flow through the brain, and it increases the excretion of urine because the kidneys. It also increases the blood flow through the heart, and in people over middle age; it is therefore a good heart tonic. It does no harm to the heart.

C. H.: "Is milk of magnesia harmful? If not, would you recommend its use for constipation for a length of time?"

Answer: Milk of magnesia is not harmful, but I do not recommend the use of any saline cathartic over any length of time as that invariably results in more constipation than was present before treatment.

H. S.: "I seem to have an insatiable desire for candy, and can easily eat a full pound of candy at any time. My weight is normal and yet I feel certain I should not eat as much candy as I do. Is it a bad habit, or is it some deficiency in my system?"

Answer: I believe it is a bad habit.

PUPPET LOVE by Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr.

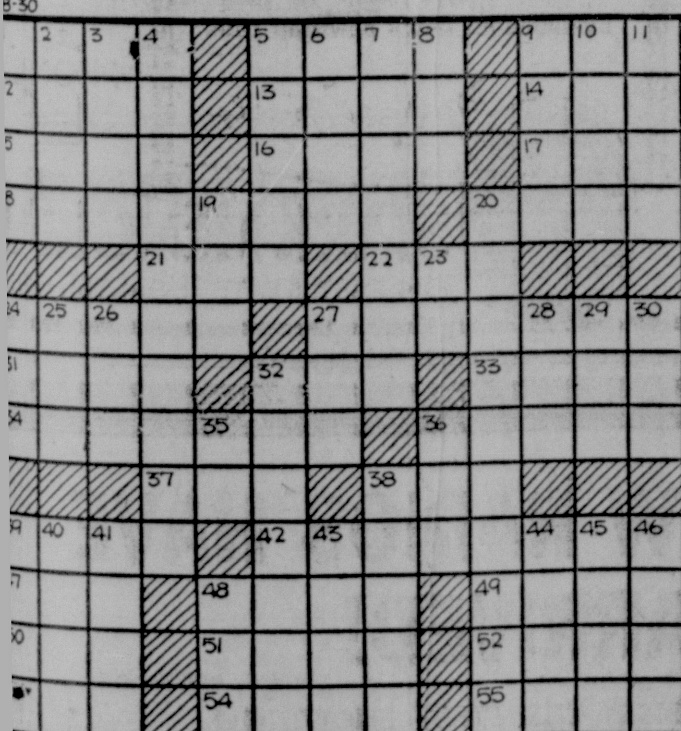

SYNOPSIS
Surfited with society and all it represents, Christopher Allen Bishop, an aristocratic family, gives up his $25-a-week position in Wall Street and leaves home. In a radio contest, he wins a radio, he makes the country. After picking up Joe Kane, a former C. C. C. worker, and dropping him at the latter's home-town, Christopher goes off to meet his fate in the person of a puppet named Nicky, who operates a marionette show in her shabby trailer home. After seeing the puppet show which depicts a poor girl rejecting a wealthy suitor, and learning that Nicky shares his views of the social whirl, Christopher asks her to dinner. But Nicky has an engagement in another town, so she invites Christopher to follow her in a car to a nearby tourist camp and dine with her in the trailer. The best Beef-stew he ever tasted, Christopher learns that Nicky's name is Nicola Rogers. She relates how, after her parents' death, she became social secretary to the Boddington Grants, social climbers. (Their daughter, Eunice had chased Christopher all last season.) But Society was too much for Nicky so she decided to follow in her parents' footsteps and take to the road with the puppets. Christopher starts to tell her about himself. He fears all will be over between them when she learns his identity. He tells as far as "My name is Christopher Allen—" when a rap on the door interrupts him. A Mr. and Mrs. Curtis, old acquaintances of Nicky's, call. The old man, a retired postman, takes Chris to his trailer to show him his collection of postcards. Chris learns from Curtis that Nicky only gets work now and then and is financially embarrassed.

"I still don't see why it had to be... puppets," said Uncle Neddy.

CHAPTER NINE
"You mean she has no regular work for her show? Just doubles up and forth on her own tracks? Why, she might get stranded!"
"Sure she might," Pa agreed, rising. "If you don't mind, we'll set in the step. Ma don't like me to make in the house.... sort of mells it up."
"Of course—I have to be running along anyway."
"Don't hurry! Ma likes to talk things over with Nicky."
"I have an errand in the village, though. I'll see you later and thanks so much."
Pa Curtis's thin hand gripped Nicky's and he looked a little puzzled at the thanks. But this was a time to explain, even if he could, a few moments later, Chris was in a car headed towards the village. Nicky actually in need of money. Curtis was right. Nicky was too good. But she had something in aid show. She should have help. The more he thought of it, the under his foot leaned on the accelerator. Bishop's dash-board clock and wrist watch agreed on the nine-fifteen. He was thinking out at ten, his evening drinking companion, Edward Crofton (Uncle Neddy) Bishop retired. And short of a personal neighbor from Gabriel could stir him. In ten minutes, he was in the city at the drug store, calling New York. It required time for Uncle Neddy to come to the phone.

NOVEL TWO-PIECE-EFFECT MODE

Just the frock for larger women who love tailored wear—is this original style by Anne Adams. Pattern 4877. It is especially designed for slim lines, yet it has such novel details. You'll like the unusual three-quarter length sleeves shown, though you can have them short or long if you prefer!

Pattern 4877 is available in women's sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50. Size 36 requires 4 yards 39-inch fabric and 1/2 yard contrast.

FUGITIVES HUNTED IN CENTRAL TEXAS

GATESVILLE, Tex., Aug. 30.—Bloodhounds and men searched heavily-wooded central Texas today for 36 young fugitives who fled the State Boys Reform school in a mass break which Supt. E. H. Nesbitt said "I've been looking for."

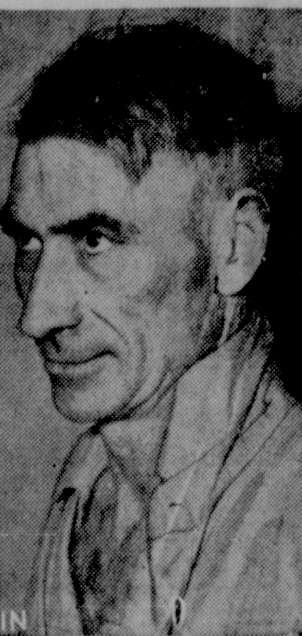

Forty-seven inmates broke from a group of 200 who had been marched from the football, baseball and basketball recreation field into the big boys yard just before last night's supper hour.

They scrambled over a picket fence and fled into the Leon river bottoms a half mile away. Eleven were captured after swimming the river, Nesbitt reported.

The school of 682 inmates receives youths sentenced in juvenile courts for crimes ranging from petty theft to rape and murder. Nesbitt said some of those convicted of major crimes were among the fugitives, who ranged in age from 14 to 25.

The superintendent will be succeeded as head of the school Monday by R. N. Winship of Austin.

Injured were the Bentons' two children, Elizabeth Ann, 12, and William, 16, and a niece, Audrey White, 26, of Woodstock, Ont. Allentown hospital attaches reported Miss White's condition serious.

LINDBERGH SPEAKS IN BASEBALL PARK

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 30.—Charles A. Lindbergh, denied the municipal auditorium, took his plea against American intervention in the war to an improvised stadium on the western edge of the city last night.

An orderly crowd, which Sheriff George Goff estimated at 10,000, heard Lindbergh and Sen. Burton K. Wheeler (D-Mont).

Lindbergh asserted that neither America nor Germany could successfully attack the other by air.

"It seems clear to me that the quickest way for Germany to lose a war would be to attack America and the quickest way for America to lose a war would be to attack Germany," the flyer said at Sandlot park where semi-pro baseball teams usually meet.

The aviator was greeted with applause, punctuated with scattered boos, when he was introduced by Herbert K. Hyde, former U. S. district attorney and state chairman of the America First committee which arranged the rally. Eighty officers were on hand to keep order.

Just no one is comfortable, really, in very hot weather—at least, it's hard for me to believe that anyone is, under ordinary circumstances.

That's why air conditioning is so important; why stores and theatres and restaurants and other places of business all over the country have gone to so much trouble and expense to install air conditioning.

That's why, too, the Stark Memorial, right here in Salem, is air conditioned; these good friends of mine always seem to make available all that's new and fine.

"Unwilling Sinner"

"An Unwilling Sinner" will be the topic of Rev. George D. Keister's sermon at the Sunday morning worship of the Holy Trinity English Lutheran church.

"Not all people who now serve the forces of evil have willingly entered into this unprofitable relationship. The scheming and clever plans of the tempter may intrigue and trick the unsuspecting person. The lies and deceiving words of Satan may lead people to follow him. King Herod was not a righteous man, yet he was not anxious to take the life of John the Baptist. He found himself wrapped in the strong chains of evil. He was now the servant of evil. That is the way of temptation. The strong may fall victim to its plans."

The Sunday school will meet at 9:45 with Charles Youtz as superintendent.

Courage and boldness are marks of the spirit and character of the teachings of the Holy Bible. In a world of hate and fear, the command goes forth that love is to be ruling principle between all peoples. In days of persecution and sacrifice, the messengers of Christ urged the rejection of hate. Love is not natural to man. God has placed this teaching before His people. May the day come when the pleadings of God will be followed.

Duties To God And Man Stressed By Rev. John Bauman

"Two Sides of Salvation" is the sermon subject of the pastor, Rev. Bauman at the Emmanuel American Lutheran church at 10 a. m. Sunday.

Reputation is what is chiseled on your tombstone; character is what the angels say about you around the throne of God.

The best way to prove Godliness is by God-like-ness. And every Sunday you show yourself a Christian by gladly heeding the call to come to church.

German service at 11 a. m.

Go All the Way With God

It is absolutely useless to attempt to separate our obligations to God from the duties of living everyday.

We simply deceive ourselves in the vain attempt to serve God on Sundays and giving the devil too much time on weekdays. "No man can serve two masters," Jesus assured us.

Now we are required to live in this sin-filled world. But that does not mean that sin has to fill us. From the house of God, and from our daily devotions we can rally forth anywhere into this evil world and not only overcome the many temptations we find therein, but we can become a positive influence that will tend to subdue the forces of evil.

We dare not meet the world without such spiritual equipment, or we easily become victims to the forces that constantly seek to enslave us. Be you employer or employee, rich or poor, learned or otherwise, your life belongs to God and you have definite responsibilities to the Father in heaven. Moreover, in pursuing the Father's way, we will find our utmost satisfaction and peace in life.

"Christ Jesus" Is Topic at Christian Science Society

The Golden Text is: "I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ; for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth" (Romans 1:16).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "And these signs shall follow them that believe: In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues; . . . They shall take up serpents; and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover." (Mark 16:17, 18).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Our Master fully and finally demonstrated divine Science in his victory over death and the grave. Jesus' deed was for the enlightenment of men and for the salvation of the whole world from sin, sickness, and death" (p. 45).

SIXTEEN VETERANS TURN OUT TO HELP INVALID PLAYER

Colleagues Win Game To Honor Clem Scullion, Former Teammate

Sixteen old-time Salem ball players rallied last night to help one of their old teammates, Clem Scullion. The veteran players met to action and outclassed a Salem China Welfare team, 3-2, in a benefit game for Clem, who has been ill for some time.

Standout performance of the fray was turned in by Kennedy who played a masterful game at shortstop. Sanders drove out a double for the only extra base hit by the Old Timers and Mohr did the same for the China.

Scullion today expressed his gratitude to the promoters, the players, and all who helped in the affair.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR. (Pinch-Hitting for Eddie Brietz)
NEW YORK, Aug. 30. — Another record for the Yanks: They'll start accepting applications for World Series tickets next Wednesday, two weeks earlier than they've ever done it before. You can bet anything you want that the Dodgers will play their series games, if any, at Ebbetts Field, but it probably makes Larry MacPhail very sad to know that the park's capacity is just 6,000 more than the 28,000 seats the Yanks will sell the day of each game.

First indication that winter is on the way: Les Patrick is in town getting things rolling for his hockey season. When old Ching Johnson goes to Washington to manage the new American league club there, his children will be entered in their 19th school. Liverpool Man Is Again National Fly Casting Champion

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 30. — Three anglers tied with perfect scores of 100 yesterday in the wet fly accuracy event of the National Fly and Bait Casting tournament, and it took two cast-offs before Clyde Marshall of East Liverpool, O., emerged the winner with his second championship.

Marshall had scores of 100, 99 and 98 C. F. Forcade of St. Louis was second with 100, 99 and 95, and third place went to Walter Dams-tegt of Waukesha, Wis., with 100, 97.

In the event, the contestants in rapid succession take two casts at each of five rings, the size of bicycletires, placed in a straight line at distance of 20 to 50 feet.

Marshall won the 3-8 ounce distance competition yesterday with an average cast of 320 2-3 feet. The event was finished after dark, using automobile lights for illumination.

MOVIE EXTRA AND GOLF STAR VIE IN AMATEUR TOURNEY

Seek 45th National Amateur Championship in Play at Omaha

By EARL HILLIGAN
OMAHA, Aug. 30. — A steel-nerved star who's been in before and an unemployed former movie extra—both up from the ranks of public links competition—knocked on the door of amateur golf's hall of fame today.

Seeking the 45th National Amateur championship in a 36-hole battle over the rugged field club layout, are Marvin (Eub) Ward of Spokane, Wash., winner in 1939, and slim Pat Abbott of Los Angeles, whose best previous bid for the crown was his loss to Willie Turnesa in the 1938 finals.

Their duel shaped up as a perfect climax to a week of sensational golf. For Ward, who yesterday moved ahead with a rousing 9 and 8 triumph over Bob Riegel of Houston, Tex., was the long-hitting "slugger" type of competitor as contrasted to the shorter but straighter shooting little California Irishman, who moved into the finals with a one up victory over Ted Bishop of Boston.

Former Public Star
Ward, a public links tour performer back in 1933 and in recent years the acknowledged top Simon-pure of the country, never gave Riegel a chance. He won the first four holes with par golf and from that point on it was just a matter of time.

Abbott, playing a deliberate game and allowing no tight spots to ruffle his swing, held a two-hole edge over Bishop through 32 holes. He three-putted the 33rd, however, and the easterner appeared to have a chance. But Abbott refused to crack, matching his opponent shot for shot to the 36th, where a half gave him his triumph.

Both finalists are 28 years old and both have excellent records behind them.

Placentia Plays Two

Lake Placentia will play two games over the Labor day weekend: They will tackle the Carrollton merchants Sunday and the Cleveland White Sox on Monday. Both are highly rated outfits.

BERKELEY, Cal.—When Mrs. Louise Garrison accidentally left the door of her aviary open all 55 of her canaries took to the air and freedom. Eventually, however, they all came back each warbling his own version of what seemed to be: "there's no place like home."

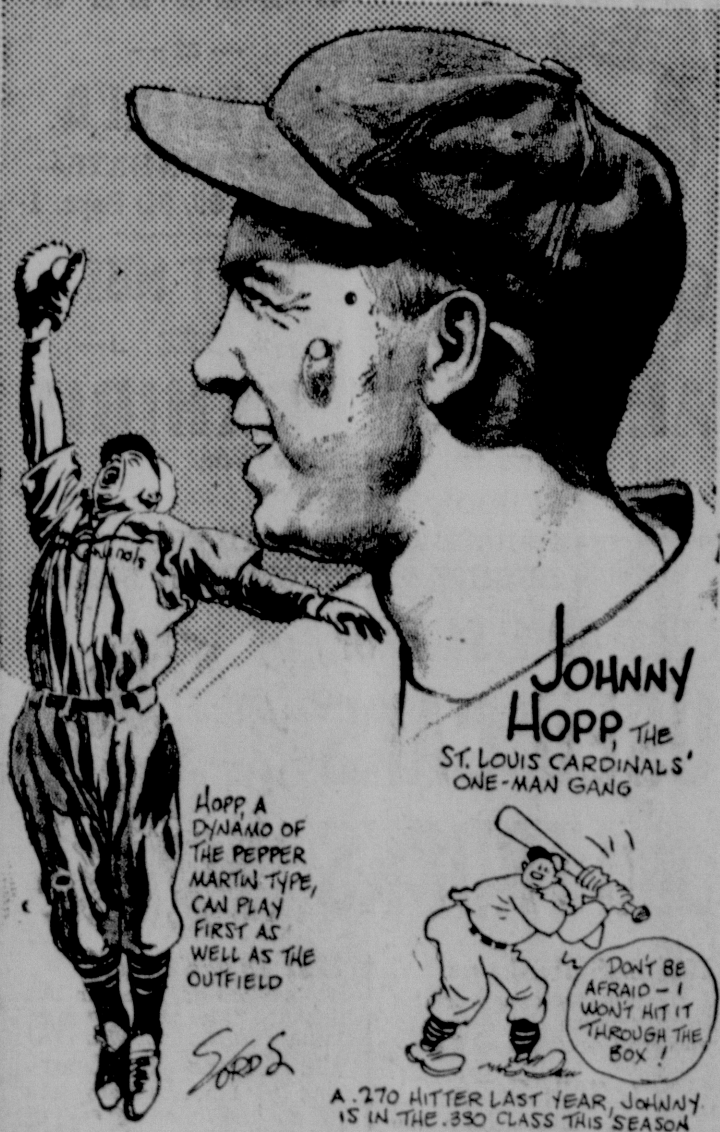

Softball Schedule

CLASS B
Tuesday, Sept. 2
5:30—Presbyterians vs Christians
5:30—Baptists vs YPCC
(Both A and B diamonds will be used.)

NEW ORLEANS—A miniature or "pilot" plant to test a more economical way of making starch from sweet potatoes is being built at the U. S. Southern Regional Laboratory here.

CARD DYNAMO - - - By Jack Sords

POLO CLUB MOTTO: LEAVE IT TO LOOP—HE'LL FIND A WAY

Canfield was originally scheduled to play polo here Sunday but they cancelled to enter the Mahoning county fair.

So Wade Loop, Salem manager, got busy and signed up the Akron Bar-K Cowboys.

Unperturbed, Loop divided the polo team into sides, got Roy Fryan of Alliance, Arthur Drake of East Palestine, and Walt Fennengel of Salem for additional players. In addition, the Darlington polo squad will be here for the inter-team fray.

The tentative lineup is something like this: Pidgeon, McEl, Smith and Fennengel vs. Votaw, Sheen, Fryan, and Drake. The others will be spares.

But better hurry out to the game tomorrow. Somebody may cancel.

MEDWICK STARS AS DODGERS WIN

"Larry MacPhail's Folly" Continues on Brilliant Comeback Trail

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Sufficient having been written for the time being about Howard Pollet, the Cardinals' sensational new pitcher, this writer hastens to put in a few words for Joe Medwick, an elderly outfielder for the Brooklyn.

Joe cost the Dodgers something more than $100,000 last season, was beamed soon thereafter, and at the end of the campaign was being referred to as "Larry MacPhail's folly." His great comeback this season stamps Joe as one of the game's supreme gamblers.

He is crowding the league leaders with a batting average of .316, has hit 17 homers, and has slugged 74 runs across the plate, including the two that proved the eventual undoing of the Giants yesterday.

Makes Running Start
With the Dodgers clinging to a 5-4 lead in the ninth, Dink Bartlett of the Giants whammed one far into left field that looked like the business, but Medwick made a running stab of the pellet and wrapped up victory for Pitcher Whit Wyatt.

It was an important win for the Dodgers, as it fattened their lead over the idle Cards to a game and a half. They won yesterday's game (the only one played in the National league) by jumping on Hal Schumacher for six hits and five runs in the fifth inning.

The American league also was busy changing partners, and in the only contest played the St. Louis Browns smote the Chicago White Sox, 5 to 2, as Elden Auker recorded his 13th triumph.

SEATTLE, Wash. — Barbara Erickson, the University of Washington's pretty "flying co-ed" of 1940, is still flying high. Now she's a flying instructor—one of the few woman teachers in the civilian pilot training program, according to Civil Aeronautics Authority officials.

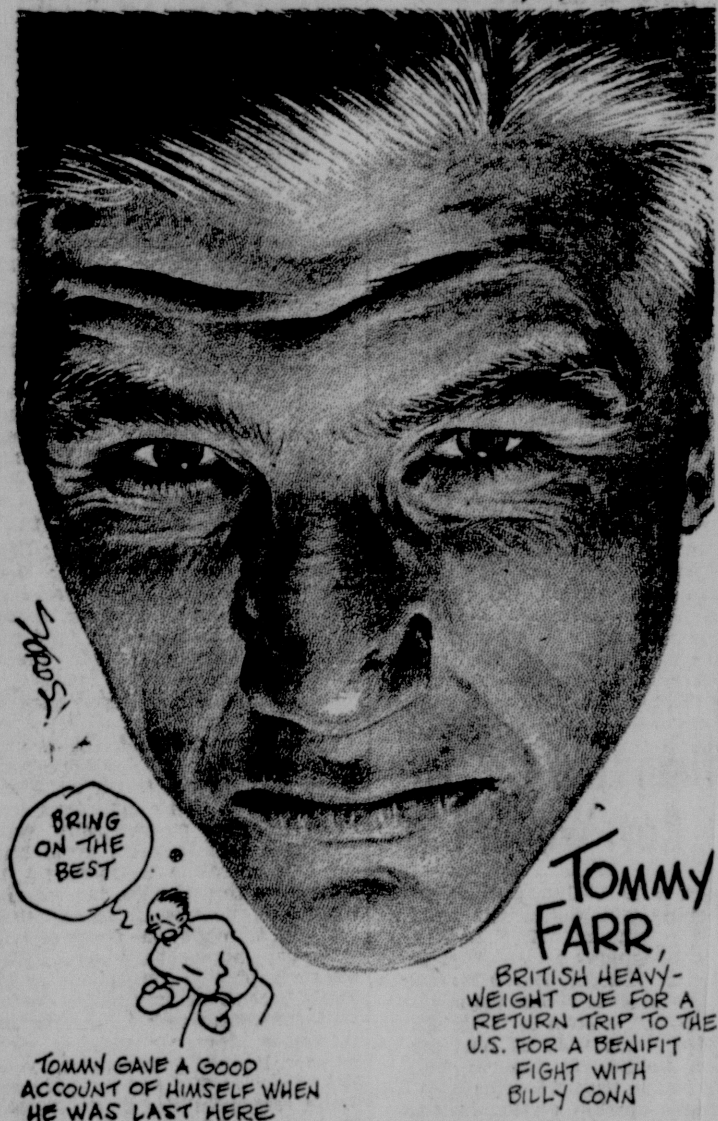

VALLEJO, Cal.—The pet pride of Jack Castagnoli—most powerful hunting rifle in the region—let him down. He bet companion hunters a bullet from his rifle would pierce an inch plate of steel at 40 feet. The bullet ricocheted, embedded itself in his chest.

FORMER SALEMITE NEW OHIO SENIOR GOLF CHAMPION

Frank B. Fults Defeats Joe Wells of East Liverpool to Win by One Stroke

Playing in the Class D bracket (golfers whose ages range from 65 to 69), Fults sank a 12-foot putt on the 18th green yesterday to win the title with a 74-82-134, and set a record for the 13-year-old event, held at Mansfield.

He nosed out Joe Wells of East Liverpool, former five-time Ohio amateur champ, by one stroke. Defending champion Frank Pelton of Cleveland was two off the pace with 155.

Leaders in the various age brackets were: Class A (75 and over), George M. Gray of Coshocton 99-101-190; Class B (70-74), C. W. Stage of Cleveland, 90-88-178; Class C (65-69) Louis Brush of Salem 92-86-173; Class E (55-59) Pelton, and Class F (50-54) Wells.

FRENO, Cal.—Five members of Fresno's medical fraternity have taken out flying in their spare time for relaxation. Three veterans recently were joined by two recruits to make up the quintet, composed of Drs. J. D. Morgan and W. G. Millholland, the newcomers, and Drs. Lloyd B. James, W. A. Hunt and L. Glynn Price, old timers.

Besides, five destroyers, an auxiliary cruiser and a minesweeper were heavily damaged, it said.

(The Finnish high command reported last night that its planes were helping the Luftwaffe bomb 123 Russian ships trying desperately to carry the last of the Red army forces out of Estonia.)

The Germans said the wiping out of the Tallinn stronghold increased the danger to Leningrad

MARINE RECRUITS ARE SOUGHT HERE

Serve with the U. S. marines and secure a free education, is the advice of Sgt. James Waters, recruiting officer here.

LABOR DAY 1941

Labor Day of 1941 finds people all over our country working in its defense. Men in the armed forces, working to learn the skills of war. Men and women in industry and on farms, working to produce the materials of defense and to process them.

Still other men and women working in offices and shops are doing their part in building the defense that will keep the nation strong and therefore free. Labor Day honors them all.
